

Cleaner waterways mean more native wildlife such as birds, frogs, and fish.

Clean waterways ultimately mean more beach and ocean recreational opportunities for all of us.

By making small changes we can:

Enhance Public Health

Reclaim Natural Beauty

Reduce Pollution

Improve Wildlife Health

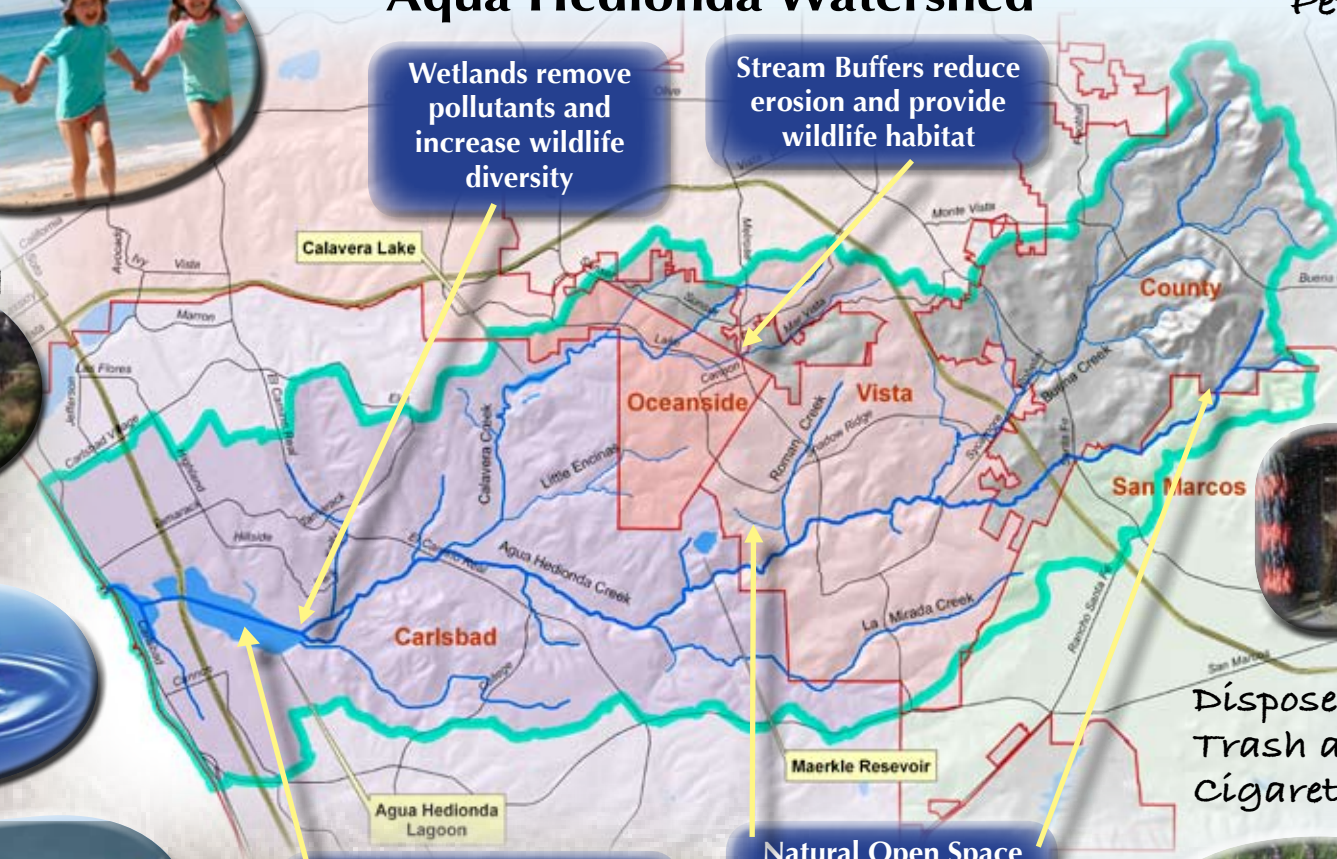

Aqua Hedionda Watershed

Wetlands remove pollutants and increase wildlife diversity

Stream Buffers reduce erosion and provide wildlife habitat

Lagoon provides critical fish nursery habitat, provides recreational and commercial opportunities

Natural Open Space reduces stream flows and provides recreational and aesthetic benefits

If all of us made just one change...

Clean up Pet Waste

Reduce Over-Irrigation

Use a car wash

Dispose of Trash and Cigarette Butts

Plant natives

Photos: Courtesy of William Kloetzer and Isabelle Kay

...the cumulative impact will help restore the natural function and beauty of our creeks, streams, and lagoons and enhance our quality of life.